.-Charles A. Stoneham's Yellow two, with Dimmesdale getting the Hand was the surprise of opening day show money. here this afternoon. He won the Empire City Handicap at a mile and a the opening scramble for two-yeararating him from Audacious as they to win by a comfortable margin from the favorite, was third. The time of the race, 1.51 flat, equalled Roamer's among them Draft and Ultimo. The record for the stake made in 1918.

Audacious went off in front, but the pace in the back stretch. Mil- 3 DIRIGIBLES, 38 BALLOONS ler, on Yellow Hand, refused to go into the lead. This forced Audacions to set his own pace, and this finally beat him. When it came to a drive through the stretch, Yellow Hand's 115 against Audacious's 129 told. Hatter trailed behind until counding the far turn. When "let ment order for three large dirigibles down" there he didn't have much.

The meeting will probably occur next in Ireland, which was the one absorbing topic of conversation. Earl Midleton, South Irish Unionist leader, reached London this morning after having travelled nearly all night from Dublin, and was almost immediately received in audience by King George. It is understood he reported to the King details of yesterday's momentous conference in Dublin, at which a truce in Ireland was arranged and steps were taken to bring together Eamonn De Valera and Prime Minister Lloyd George,

"Sir: The desire you express ernment to end the centuries of conflict between the people of these two islands and to establish relations of neighborly harmony is the genuine desire of the people of Ireland.

"I have consulted with my colleagues and secured the views of representatives of the minority of our nation in regard to the invitation you have sent me. In reply I desire to say I am ready to meet and discuss with you on what basis such a conference as that proposed can reasonably hope to achieve the object desired."

Before De Valera's letter was given out, the Irish Bulletin issued the fol-

"President De Valera informed the conference of the terms in which he proposed to reply to the British Premier's invitation. At the previous session of the conference the President expressed the view that it would be impossible to conduct negotiations with any hope of achieving results unless there was a cessation of bloodshed in Ireland. A letter to Lord Midleton from Mr. Lord George was read concurring in this view and indicating the willingness of the British Government to consent to a suspension of active operations on both sides. It is expected that announcement of a truck to take effect as from Monday next will be made early to-morrow.

The whole country this morning was seething with talk over peace

On his arrival at Holyhead Earl Midleton expressed belief that the terms of Eamonn De Valera's letter to Premier Lloyd George accepting the suggestion of a conference would be acceptable to the Prime Minister. Eard Midleton added that he and his colleagues had achieved their object, and that further progress toward peace in Ireland was a question to ing of the truce for Ireland and the be discussed by Mr. Lloyd George and

"Sentiment in Ireland," he said in referring to the public attitude there, "is overwhelmingly in favor of a settlement, and there is fervent South Africa may preside, owing to hope it will be possible to arrive at a solution that will be permanent."

It declared this gave substantial ground for hope, especially in view of arrangements made for a truce on Monlay. The newspaper noted that Mr. Lloyd George "seems clearly to have understood the danger of continued warfare," and concluded by expressing belief that "the end of this secular trouble, ruinous to Ireland and humiliating to this country, is within neasurable distance."

The conclusion of a truce in Ireand, the Chronicle asserted, lifted the negotiations to a new plane of hopefulness and reality, the newspeper remarking upon the extraordinary fact that Sir Nevil Macready, military commander in Ireland, was able to drive through the streets of Dublin in ull uniform and unattended, but without molestation, saying: "Here is peace, not simply in prospect but in foretaste."

The Chronicle rejoiced that, as it was very rare for any truce arranged to be followed by a reversion to war, there was a prospect that calm coun sels would have a chance. It expressed hope and belief that further fighting in Ireland would be impossible, adding: "It seems as though the ast chapter of bloodshed and misery s at length closed."

Warning was given by the Daily Herald, organ of Labor, that a truce
